MAKING MILE.

An Interesting Departure.

Old fashioned methods of advertising will not do for an age so progressive as the present. Manufacturers are continually on the look-out for fresh methods of bringing before the public the merits of their wares, and in this connection the cinematograph offers a fine medium. One of the mest interesting films of this class seen in the Far East is one depicting the manufacture of the Nestle and Anglo-Swiss Milk Company's products, which was shown at Mucan on Sunday to an audience consisting of most of "the school children of the Portuguese colony The fact that it is an advertisement does not detract from its merit. It shows the manufacture of condensed and sterilised milk from start to finish. One gets wonderful glimpses of the greenest of fields under the bluest of skies, and to these are driven herds of healty-looking cows. The film shows the milking in the open sir, trains carry ng hundreds of churns to the factory, and afterwards; all the testing, preparing and packing, b fore it travels East and West to be consumed by all nationalities. The children went away with a gift, of chocolate pres nted by the firm.

NORTH ATLANTIC POOL.

Berlin, Feb. 23. It is stat d by the "Berliner Tageblatt' that the "community of interests" between the Norddeutscher Lloyd and the Hamburg-Amerika companies will have a term of seventy five years. Though it seems that all the details have not been settled, the principle of the agreement is that "thoth companies shall have an equal right of participation in the entire North American passenger and freight business." At the same time regard will will be paid to "certain transition conditions arising from the Lloyd having in the past had a larger share of the passenger and the "Hapag" of the freight traffic. It is further indicated that agreement will reon ate the question of additional construc-

A telegram received from London states that the North clantic shipping pool has been renewed for five years, reservation being made with regard to the settlement of several questions which are to be discussed in the next few days. Should these questions not be settled the renewal of the pool holds good for the current year .-

GREAT PEARL ROBBERY.

Further Recovery.

Mr. Max Mayer, whose £135,000 pearl meeklace was stolen from the box in which it was posted in Paris to London, recently stated that three of the pearls which were missing when the discovery of the necklare was made in a gutter at Highbury have been restored to him. Only one minor one is now missing.

"The three pourls," Mr. Mayer said. Awere brought to my office yesterday afternoon (Feb. 25) by Messrs. Price and Gibbs, the insurance assessors who acted for the underwriters at Lloyd's. I st onco recognised the gems. We always believed that they were not lost when the restlof the needlace was found, and some time after the discovery I heard that there was some prospect not regaining them. It was a matter of investigation, and now we have got them. Apparently they had been sent from London to Paris for some purpose, but they up returned intact. They are worth £14,000. The only postly missing now is the end one. worth only about £400. More than that I cannot say, but I am cortainly glad to get them back."

Lord Chesterfield, who was an interest ed apoctator of the American beschall game at Stamford-Bridge, was roobed o a west pie which he valued at 2500.

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out

Science has taught us wisdom spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to n'w life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy. action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhaea by removing the irritating cause. Be prepared for emergencies by aiways keeping a bottle in the house.

LIVERPOOL SACK MURDER.

Appeal Abandoned.

Considerable spir has been occasioned in the city, says the Liverpool correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" by the announcement that the appeal lodged on behalf of Samuel Angeles Elltoft, aga nat his conviction and sentence of four years penal servitude as an accessory after the fact in connection with what is known; as-"the suck marder," has been withdrawn. Since his trial much public sympathy has been expressed for Ellto't, who is a youth of 18, and numerous contributions have been received to assist him in prosecuting the proposed appeal. To what precise reason the decision to drop further proceedings in connection with the appeal are attributable is unknown. That the appeal has been definitely with drawn is confirmed by Mr. John A. Behn, Elltoft's solicitor, who states that the course indicated has been adopted under his advice, with the assent of his counsel, Mr $137,287.88 | Lindon Riley. He adds, "The matter ha caused both of us the gravest consideration, and I need hardly say that our respectatbility has been considered as well with reference to our client and his many sympathisers as with reference to the duty

1,393.29 owing to the Court of Criminal Appeal." It is asserted, though, of course, the police are extremely reticent, and decline all information on the point, that another search has been made of Elltoft's house.

Ball's Confession

Liverpool, Feb. 25. To day George Ball, alias Summer, admitted to the Bishop of Liverpool that he each fully paid up ......$600,000.00 murdered Miss Bradfield, and he repeated 26,000.00 the confession to relatives who saw him in Walton Good this afternoon, these visitors being his father, brother, sister, and brother in law, says the "Daily Telegraph"

63,587,88 of Feb. 28. The father was the first to speak. " How $708,798.54 are you lad?" he taked, in husky tones, The dormed man looked up, and in a voice so feeble that it could scarcely be beard, he answered that he felt all right. There was a pause. Ball was the first to break the silence, and he did it with the following dramatic words," I have confessed." The father tried to speak, but could not,

Then, showing full contrition, and seck ing, even at this last moment, to win lack the affection of his father, Ball said, " Forgive me, father." They werd the hat words that were to p as between this wretched man and his broken-hearted parent, The father made no snawer, but, with bowed head, turned away, and brought to an abrupt end this latewell interview with his add. The condemned man's sister said?" Now you have confessed, George, I suppose you will settle yourself." Yes, I have done, that he confessed to the bishop this morne ing after which his lordenip contriled him. Another of the relatives then mid. Perhaps you will feel happies now that this has happened? You replied Ball.

The histor acced, You may be better off. George, in the says world. Bill's mower was impediated. Then his thoughts sed hed to turn to those he was about to leave

As early as half-past neven a morbidly curious crowd began to assemble outside the prison gates. By nine o'clock there must have been fully 1,500, or perhaps" even 2,000, persons waiting under chilly and rather foggy conditions opposite the portais of the prison, Shortly after the prison clock struck nine another bell of a deeper tone broke the awful stillness, and carried its dreadful message to the waiting crowd. George Ball was dead. The tolling of the bell was the first intimation from within that the execution had been carried out. It sati-fied the waiting crowd. They dispersed, content with the knowledge that the penalty demanded by the law had been paid. The execution was carried out by Ellis, assisted by Willis with romakable expedition. Ball is reported to have behaved with great calmness while the preliminaries for the execution were taking place. He submitted quietly to being pinioned, and walked steadily from the condemned cell to the scaffold, a distance of about fourteem yards. It is stated that less than a minute elapsed after leaving the cell before the death penalty was carried out. The inquest was held in the forencon by Mr T. E. Bampson, the city coroner. Mr. John Dillon, the governor of the prison) stated that he was present at the execution, and he produced his warrant containing the death sentence.

Dr. George Batho Griffiths, semior medical officer at the prison, stated that the drop was 7ft. 6 n. The jury found a verdict to the effect that the prisoner had been properly

Neuralgia, Nervous Breakdown —

NURSE HALL, c/o Mrs. Bassett, Commercial Place, Landport, Portsmouth, Eng., writes:-"I was suffering from nervous breakdown with Internal Neuralgia, when I began a course of Phosferine. After having taken it for three or four months, I felt better than I had done for two years previously, and consider it the best tonic I have ever tried. As a remedy for all nervous disorders I think there is nothing to equal Phosferine, especially as I was given up by more than one doctor previous to taking Phosferine, and can now say I am perfectly well and strong, and have taken nothing else.'

No other medicine has received such absolute proof of its extraordinary properties in restoring Shattered Constitutions, and in giving back to the prematurely aged New Life and Energy.

POLISH CASTLE DRAMA

COUNT ACQUITTED.

Final Scene in Court.

Bernin, Feb. 22. Count Matthias Mielezynski was elegraphed as the Time by Reuter) yesterday evening fully acquitted of the charges of killing his wife and nephew. The jury arrived at their decision after only twenty minutes' consultation.

It seems to be a characteristic of local celing on the case that as soon as the verdiet was pronounced, the prosecuting counsel, who had himself pleaded extenuating circumstances, though the indictment was only for manslaughter. crossed the court and warmly shook the hand of the Count. The latter, who, during the day's hearing, had several times been overcome by attacks of weakness. burst into tears on being released from custody. He left the court in company of his mother. A dew further details of the hearing have become known. It appears that s voluminous correspondence between the Countess and her rephew showed that illicit intercourse had existed between them for some time. Much evidence was given as to the habitual drunkenness of Count Mianczynski. It was deposed that he frequently drank £7 to £10 worth of champagne at a certain bar at Posen in the course of a single day. Medical evidence was given to the effect that the accused could not be held to have been irresponsible for his actions at the moment of the tracedy. Counse for the defence urged that. " as a man of honour," his client "could not have acted otherwise than he did."

Maid's Statement.

There was a delay in the beginning of the trial of Count Mielczynski this morning, as the Count was in such a state of nervous excitement that a restorative and to be administered before the proceedings could be resumed. The first witness was the priest of Dakowy Mokre, who was summoned to siminister the that the Count burst into tears trhon he was in such a state at the moment of hoch Fish, -Bok k, dans saw him. alono to blame. He has ruined me. Wuat will become of my children?"

The main interest attaches to the evidence of the girl Kockorowska, maid to the late Countess, whose statements in regard to the relations of the Countess and Count Minnezynski yesterday caused such an impression on the Count that the proceedings had to be suspended in order to enable him to recover his selfcontrol. Kockorowska related a number of things of which the Count was unaware. With regard to the night of the tragedy, Kockorowska stated that Count Mianczynski came to the room of the Countess where the witness was helping her to retire, and was sent away, but returned when the Countess was already Barbel,-Ka Yu ... in bed. Among the witnesses to-day the accused's brother, Count Ignaz Mielezyn- Dab, -- Sa Mang Yu ski, who testified in regard to the character of Count Misnezynski, dresoribing him as a drunkard and a rake. The aged Countess Mielczynski, mother of the accused, said he was always a feeble and pampered caild, and had never known sound health.

Some servante gave evidence to the effect that Mianczynski had been warned Caroups, Sok Pan and had been told that the Count " knew everything."

At the instance of the defence a number of letters were read showing that culpable relations existed between Count Mianczynski and the Countees for a considerable time before the crime. The accused suffered another collapse on hearing the contents of the letters.

A Posen barkeoper deposed that Misnczyniki was an excellent customer, and was in the habit of coming to the bar several times weekly and spending 150 or 200 marks on champagne.

The medical experts who gave evidence at the trial of Count Mielczynski were divided in their opinions as to whether the Count was responsible for his action or not. #### JOHNSON AND LANG-FORD.

WHY THE BOXING MATCH IS NOT WANTED.

Bitter Lesson of the Past.

An effort is being made in a certain section of the press, writer Arbiter in The Chronicle, to get the part of friendly counsellor to Jack Johnson in the present negotiations to bring him and Sam Langford together in a contest for the world's died at the age of 00, left estate valued championship. The National Sporting Club has made an offer which most people will regard as substantial, even though it falls for short of the irreducible minimum of TB,000 which Johnson demands, whatever the result of the fight may be. and because to how at the ! THE NINE YEAR OLD MURDER CASE.

PRISONER ACQUITED.

The Kowloon murder trial was concluded at the Criminal Sessions their morning, before the Puisue Judge (Mr. Justice Gontportz) and a jury of which Mr. G. A. Diss was foreman. The prisoner, a middle-aged man named Chu Loi, was charged with the murder of a man named Sin Ying at Kowloon chai nine years ago-in March, 1907, but was found not guilty and dis-

The Crown Solicitor, Mr. J. H. Komp prosecuted; and Mr. C. G. Alabastor, instructed by Mr. Crowther Smith, defended. Prisoner was placed in the witness-box this morning gave a denial that he ever went to Kowloon-chai, where the murder was committed, until last year. He said he was a Hakka and alleged that the witness, who were Punti had accused him because they wished to be revenged upon him because of a quarrel he had with them. He was born at Wai chan and was never in the Colony until the ninth moon of last year, when he left his village because floods had destroyed his paddy fields. He then came to the village of his wife's relatives to wait for a ship, but in the meantrine got work order to support hiffiself. The three men who had identified him as the murderer made his acquaintance in the tenth moon, and they had tes and a smoke together. In the eleventh moon they wanted to take some planks belonging to him and they had a quarrel which ended in a fight. He knew nothing about the killing. Had he done so he would not have gone there to live. A concrete contractor living at the Hoklo village at Kowloon said prisoner had worked for him since the tenth moon last year in the name of Chu Loi. A former from Shui-hau village, who was visiting Hongkong for the first time, said he had known prisoner since he was a boy

Prisoner lived in his village "several tens of years" and left in the ninth moon last year, because floods spoilt his paddy, to go abroad. He had a family house in the village, which he mortgaged before he den (hon, secretary to the Church Body).

Cross-examined, witness said prisoner was a clansman and he called him his uncle. The village was near Tam-taui. Mr. Alabaster, addressing the jury on the evidence for the defence, pointed out that there was no doubt prisoner had been iving at Kowloon-chai since the ninth moon of last year with his family, face of that could it be believed, he saked, that the Crown, witnesses from the village did not know him? For the first week of his stay in the village he lived in a vegetable garden and it could not be beleived that he did not get to know the gardeners of the neighbood. Prisoner had told them that he had a quarrel with these people, whom he knew quite well, last year, and that until then be had never been in the neighbourhood; this evidence had been confirmed by the witnesses from the country. Losing his money on account of floods he went to the village where his wife's friends lived, and got to know the people there. Did the jury think that if he was the guilty man he would have gone ther tol ive, making friends with the very people Could the jury believe one single word of this story for the prosecuarms, and when they quarrelled with msoner they decided that the best way to get him out of the way would be to identify him as the man who committed the murder nine years ago. They told the perfectly ridiculous story of identifying him on night so dark that even though they were carrying lamp, they stembled over a pig ir the road. He earnestly asked the jury to find prisoner not guilty. The Crown Solicitor having replied, his Lordship summed up.

The jury, after a short retirement, unanimously returned a verdict of not guilty, and prisoner was accordingly discharged.

JOHN'S CATHEDRAL

ASSISTANT CHAPLAINCY QUESTION.

In connection with the scheme for the engagement of an assistant chaplain for St. John's Cathedral a meeting of sentholders and subscribers convened by the Church Body was hold in the City Hall last evening to consider the following resolution, postponed from the annua meeting; held on January 28;-

"Resolved that a scheme for the ruising of a fund by monthly subscriptions to provide the balance of the stipend of an assistant chaplain for St. John's Cathedral do receivo the appro val of this meeting of seatholders and subscribers." The following outline of the scheme was attached to the notice of meeting: 1. That a fund raised by monthly subscriptions shall be formed, to be used primarily for the payment of the balance of the stipend of an assistant chaplain at St. John's Cathedral. . 2. That subscribers to the fund shall be at liberty to promise monthly subscriptions during period from six months to three years no they may wish. 3. That if the fund abould show a credit balanco at the end of a year, such balance shall be disposed of in a number to be determined at the annual meeting of seatholders and subscribers. 4. That the work of collecting the subscriptions to the fund shall be entrusted to the St. John's Cathedral branch of the Church of England Men's Society. The Bishop of Victoria (Rt. Rev.") Dr.

Lander) presided, and others present in cluded H.E. the Governor (Sir Henry May, K.C.M.G.), Archdeucon Barnett, Rev. Copley Moyle (chaplain), Hon. Mr. Claud Severn, Sir Paul Chater, Hon. Mr. Ländale, Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C., Mr. N. J. Stabb, and Mr. W. L. Patten-The Bishop, introducing the subject for discussion, mentioned that there were for two periods two chaplains of the enthedral and that insufficiency were not two at present. At the annual meeting in 1912 the Church Body Hung Hom quarters, which hang for over clergyman who would devote part of histime to assisting at the cathedral. Personally he was satisfied with that proposal and was willing to get a clergyman who would live at .... menhers were doing what they could to raise funds, and Mr. Severn recently reported to the Church Body that considerable progress had been made. This organisation condially approved the scheme. In conclusion he said he wished to make it quite plain that the appointment would be made by the Church Cricket Club Lawn tennis tournament :-Body, who alone had the right to select "The Rev. Copley Moyle, indicating the necessity for an assistant, said that one was required in the first place for visiting, which was very difficult here owing to the situation of the island, and the fact that the European population was mixed up with Chinese; and he was a great believer in the old adage that " a house-going parson means a Churchgoing people." The work of the classes and guilds needed extension, but this was impossible at present, and he had been forced to drop his communicants' class' because it clashed with the C.M.S. and other Church matters. There was also the visiting of hospitals and gaols and the bolding of services at these places. The work at the gool was important, and much good could be done in the direction of starting prisoners in life after their release. The person who was known as "the man in the street," he added. thought that a clergyman worked on one day in the week, Sunday, and rested for six. The work of a Chaplain was not Sunday work, but work which went on during the whole of the week. In a place like Hongkong, in addition to the usual duties, funerals and marriages came always unexpectedly. It was a good Johnson worked single-handed the work of the hospitals and gool was not done by him. In conclusion Mr. Moyle said

Cabinet and War Office

Conferences.

According to "trustworthy accounts the position in the Third Cavalry Brigade at the Curregh and Dublin is approcedented.

On Friday morning the War Office requested officers who were unprepared for active service in Ulster to send in their papers within twelve hours.

Seventy; out of seventy-five, including General Gough, V C., did send in their papers.

As a result of the conference at the War Office on Friday night, General Paget, the Officer Commanding the Troops in Ireland, conferred on Saturday with the senior officers who had resigned.

It was intimated that the War Office was willing to accept the resignations of General Gough and Major Kearsley. but not the others, who, if they disobeyed orders, would be liable to be tried by court martial.

General Gough and Major Kearsley conferred with Colonel Seely, f declined the special treatment offered, Secretary of State for War, at and said they would stand or fall with the War Office. Brigadier-General their brother officers.

General Paget then intimated that in Ireland and also several Aldershot the movement of troops at present was officers were also called. only for the protection of Government property and to assist the Police in Colonel John Edmond Gough, A.D.C. maintaining order.

In view of this assurance the officers eventually agreed to go to Ulster, but definitely stated that they would not. participate in hostilities against Lov-

This decision was telegraphed to Whitehall, and afterwards General Gough, Colonel McEwer, of the 16th . Lancers and Colonel Parker of the 5th | will be made in the House of Com-Lancers were summoned to London, mons to-night.

They visited the War Office yesterday. Mednwhile the orders to move the Cavalry from the Curragh and Dublin northward have been suspended.

Colonel Hogg of the 4th Lancers has not resigned.

A number of officers left the Curragic gesterday on special leave. They stated other Aldershot officers are ready to resign if ordered to Ireland. that their resignations had not been accepted because they would then be free to join the Ulster Volunteers.

Many resignations have also been tendered in the Infantry and Artillery Brigades at Dublin, the Curragh, Newbridge, and Kildare, but up to the present all Infantry and Artillery ordered North have gone without demur.

The Times learns that the attitude of the Government is that the resignstions are due to honest misunderstanding of the matter which bad been tactlessly handled locally. There would be no penalisation of the officers. General Paget has been summoned to London.

London Press Comments.

The Liberal organs ascribe the resignations to political influences, and eny they must be dealt with drastically, otherwise the Army's word will become the sole law.

The Daily News says that the Military conspirators against Parliament should she broken mercilessly, never re-admitted to the Army, and replaced by men from the ranks.

The Daily Chronicle comment is in. -similar strain.

The Unionist papers laud the resignations, and declars it is the duty of the Unienists to see that those who have resigned do not suffer for their self-sacrificing patriotism.

The House and the Crisis.

It is expected that Mr. Bonar Law will move the adjournment of the House to day and that an important dehate will follow.

Lord Lansdowne will raise the question of the resignations of the officers in the House of Lords to-day.

Mr. Balfour in Fighting Mood.

Mr. Balfour ridiculed the efforts of Mr. Asquith to minimise what had happened in the Army, and declared that the instructions were meant against Ulster. Brig.-General Gough had resigned under that impression. and had been dismissed because be did not want to fight against Ulster. He had been reinstated afterwards, but he was still saying that he would not fight against Ulster: (Loud Opposition cheers.) Mr. Balfour concluded by saying that the Government were dealing with the question as one that was deeper than ordinary problems. They had raised forces that nothing could pacify, except a brond statesmanlike treatment which, so far, the Government had not attempted to adopt. "(Cheers.)
